THE GOOD ONES FOR EAST TEN-The Knoxville Whig-the organ of the East Tennessee Unionists-announces in its issue of the 24th inst., the abandonment of all idea of holding the Kingston convention, the delegates to which were to have been elected on the 30th of wais mouth. This convention was criginally projected for the purpose of agitating the division of the State, and its indefinite postponement augurs well for the growing loyalty of East Tennessen, which will be hailed with delight by the whole South. The reaction which is fast taking place among the people of that section, we feel confident, is awceping every vestige of opposition before it. Various gentlemen of this city, who have recently returned from there, represent the change as even surpassing the most exaggerated accounts which have yet been given of it. It is asserted by many that it would be unsafe for such exiled traitors as Johnson and Maynand to return to their homes, unless bringing with them vonchers of repentance for the past and of better conduct for the future.
